TEN CENTS PER WEEK

LOCOMOTIVE NOT CAR DEPARTMENT, IS CUT IN TIME

Four Days a Week of Eight Hours Each For Illinois
Central Shops.

Notice Posted, Effective Until Further Word.

ECONOMY IS THE WATCHWORD

The employees of the locomotive department at the Illinois Central shops who have never before been disturbed by reduction of force or working hours since the business depression began several months ago, got their Saturday, when an order was received closing the department two days each week and giving an eight hour work day for the four days they will work.

Through an error a similar bulletin was posted in the car repairing department, but inquiry at the general offices in Chicago brought back the reply this morning that it was never intended to close the car repairing department, but that the same schedule of six days a week and nine hours a day will continue in that department.

The correction of the mistake caused a better feeling in the car department and the employees, who have been so hard hit by other reductions, say they are now having their in-

Engines All Repaired.

The closing of the locomotive department two days a week does not mean that business is again falling off with the road. During the past three months while the car department was working but eight hours and four and five days a week, the locomotive department worked on the officials taking advantage of the light freight traffic to put every engine in first-class repair. As a consequence the work is well up in that department. The machinists draw more money in wages than do the car repairers and are better able to stand a reduction. More men are employed in the car department.

Railroad and business men say the reduction at this particular time is caused by the fact that June 30 is the close of the fiscal year and the company will use every possible means of economy in order to make as favorable a statement as possible. After July 1 expenses will be charged to the statement due December 31 and business will open up again with a boom. One man, thoroughly in touch with the situation, offered to wager this morning that by August 1 every department at the shops will be running full force nine hours a day.

Another Company Sent.

Toledo, O., June 8.—Another company of militia was sent to Ripley to assist in the campaign against night riders. Five companies are now on guard.

City Tax Collector.

City Treasurer John J. Dorlan collected more than $6,000 in city taxes last week, which is considered a splendid showing for the first week's collections. After July 1 a penalty of one per cent will go on the tax bills and the amount of the penalty will be increased each month.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL PICKN' AT ALMO.

Almo park will be the scene of the Baptist Sunday school picnic on June 16, the date and place having been decided yesterday after Sunday school. A special train over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway will take several hundred of the school members to Almo for an all-day outing. On June 23, the Barren class of young men, of which the pastor, Rev. M. E. Dodd, is the leader, will go to Metropolis Lake for a picnic.

HORSE OVERCOME.

Fine Animal Belonging to J. G. Miller, Jr., Dies.

Eight hours in a box car coming from Kuttawa to Paducah, resulted fatally for a fine blooded mare, the property of Attorney John G. Miller, Jr., Saturday evening. At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the horse was placed in the car at Kuttawa and arrived in Paducah, a distance of 33 miles, at 10 o'clock Saturday night. The horse walked out of the car, but dropped dead almost on reaching the ground. Over-heat was the cause ascribed by the veterinarian Dr. C. G. Warner, though it was thought the car was amply ventilated. The horse had been on pasture, however, which made it more susceptible to heat. Mr. Miller valued her at $250.

Former Teacher in City Schools is Drowned While Trying to Ford Salt River Below Taylorsville, Ky.

J. Eli Snyder, Who Taught in Jefferson Building Meets Untimely Fate—Body Not Yet Recovered—Leaves Family.

J. Eli Snyder, of Bloomfield, formerly a teacher in Paducah, was drowned while attempting to cross Salt creek at a ford four miles below Taylorsville Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The creek was swollen from recent rains and Mr. Snyder was washed down in the strong current. His body has not yet been recovered.

Mr. Snyder was principal in the public schools of Paducah for several years at the Longfellow and Jefferson buildings. He left this city and went to Little Rock, Ark., where he started in the insurance business and later went to Bloomfield, where he was living at the time of his death. Mr. Snyder is survived by his wife and two children. He married the daughter of Dr. J. T. Christian, a prominent Baptist minister.

Maybe It's Mrs. Guinness.

Possibly Mrs. Belle Guinness is in Paducah. Detective Henry Bailey suspects this for John A. Williams, of the Cairo road, reported to him that a black wheel had been left at his grocery Saturday night. The wheel was manufactured in Laporte, Ind., and Detective Bailey is dubious about finding the owner. Mrs. Guinness rode the bike here and left it.

Baptist Sunday School Elects.

At a business meeting of the First Baptist church Wednesday evening, the officers of the Sunday school were elected for the year beginning July 1, 1908. A. M. Rouse, superintendent; L. L. Bebout, assistant superintendent; Lorenzo Emery, secretary; Homer Johnson, assistant secretary; J. R. Purvart, treasurer; Miss Hortense, pianist.

CHECK MAN CAUGHT

One of the negroes who cleaned up several hundred dollars from Paducah merchants by forging a check with George W. Katterjohn's name has been caught in Cairo, and requisition papers have been applied for by the chief of police of Dyersburg, Tenn., to take him there. Chief Baker, of Fulton, tried hard to get the negro, but the Dyersburg chief was in Cairo when the arrest was made. The negroes used the bogus checks in Jackson and Dyersburg, Tenn., Fulton and Paducah.

BARKLEY GOES TO CONSULT ORACLE AT BENTON TODAY

Will Learn Whether or Not He is Candidate For Commonwealth's Attorney.

List of Delegates to Convention at Lexington.

BERRY FOR COMMITTEEMAN.

County Attorney Alben Barkley went down to Benton this morning to feel the situation there in the race for commonwealth's attorney. After he has consulted with his friends in Benton he will announce his decision in regard to the race against J. G. Lovett. It is definitely known that Mr. Barkley will not run for a reelection to his present office, his present uncertainty being in regard to a choice between running for county judge or commonwealth's attorney. If Mr. Lovett and Mr. Barkley are opponents, one of the hottest campaigns within the Democratic party is expected, as each is strong in his respective county.

Three prominent young lawyers are mentioned as probable candidates to succeed Mr. Barkley as county attorney. Mr. John G. Miller, Jr., Mr. A. E. Boyd and Mr. Saunders E. Clay.

Most of McCracken county's delegates to the state convention in Lexington will leave Tuesday morning. As finally decided, the delegates are: W. A. Berry, J. S. Ross, J. K. Hendrick, Maurice McIntyre, Gus Rogers, J. G. Miller, Jr., Dr. L. L. Smith, Muscoe Burnett, E. Graves, C. C. Grassham, R. J. Wilson, A. W. Barkley, C. W. Emery and Gus Singleton.

W. A. Berry's Chances.

For state central committeeman, W. A. Berry can already count on 70 votes in the convention, with only 60 votes necessary to a choice. If he is elected to this position, he will vacate the position of county chairman. He has held several years and a contest for his successor will be precipitated. J. M. Lang is mentioned for the position.

That Beckham will be sent as a delegate to the Denver convention, is the opinion of the Paducah delegation, but after this sop is given him, they expect him to be quietly but firmly set aside in the party's councils. The Lexington convention is admittedly a crisis in the party's career, made so by the Republican success, and a new deal of the political cards is wanted by many Democrats. A policy for the party for the next four years will be laid down in the convention, as well as the men who will direct it. It is possible that neither Beckham nor Vey Woodson will be elected national committeemen, though this is a question settled by the state delegates to the national convention. If Beckham can dictate these delegates, he can control the election of national committeemen.

Taft Men Winning Every Contest—Draft Platform Brought in—Memorial from New York Publicists.

Chicago, June 8. (Special.)—The Republican national committee today seated Drs. Frank Boyd, of Paducah, and C. H. Linn, of Kuttawa, Taft delegates from the First Kentucky district; and F. M. Fisher, of Paducah, and L. W. Key, of Mayfield, alternates, defeating former Senator W. J. Deboe and Adolph Weil, of Paducah.

Taft delegates in the Fifth, Sixth and Eleventh Kentucky district were seated.

Fisher, of Paducah, is leading the administration forces. The anti-hunt has practically abandoned hope of seating, but the contestants intend to continue the fight before the convention in the hope of getting compromises, which will avoid trouble in congressional districts in the election.

Others seated were Taft men from the Third Florida and the First, Second and Third Georgia.

Solomon Luna, of New Mexico, whose proxy Frank H. Hitchcock held, has arrived. Mr. Hitchcock decided not to sit on the national committee again. The committee seated the Taft delegates from the Third Florida district.

Senator Hopkins arrived with a draft of the platform. He favors tariff reform, amending the law to allow railroads to make reasonable rate agreements, a ship subsidy and exemption of labor organizations from snap injunctions.

Choate is Worried.

New York, June 8.—Fear that the Republican national convention may yield to the demand of Samuel Gompers and indorse anti-injunction legislation caused 18 prominent Republicans to join in a memorial to the resolutions committee urging a plank reaffirming confidence in the integrity of the courts and declaring for the need of preserving their independence. Signers declare they have in mind an attack on the courts by "Democratic platform and candidate in 1906." Cornelius Bliss, Nicholas M. Butler, Joseph Choate and John W. Griggs are among the signers.

Mad Dog Scare is Chicago's Fad.

Chicago, June 8.—This city is having a panic over mad dogs. Two boys on the west side were bitten and half dozen mad dogs were reported in different sections. One appeared among school children and started a stampede. They are killing all unlicensed dogs.

Confederate veterans in Paducah and from surrounding towns, left at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway for Birmingham to attend the annual reunion. A special Pullman was provided for the veterans and the railroad gave passes to a number of old soldiers who were unable to bear the expense of the trip. Miss Hallie Young, sponsor for the J. T. Walbert camp, and her maids of honor, Misses Sarah George, Mayme Baynham and Emma Claybecker, with Mrs. George Kolb, matron of honor, Misses Sadie George, Mayme Judged Captain James Koger, B. H. Birmingham, Ala., June 8.—Birmingham is a mass of bunting and flags in honor of the Confederate veterans whose annual reunion will begin here Tuesday and continue through Thursday. The general committee has prepared for 20,000 visitors, and it is believed fully this number will be on hand. The extra trains began to come in today, and incoming trains had extra coaches crowded to the doors. The first of the prominent officials to arrive was Gen. Tyler, head of Forrest's cavalry corps. Gen. Cabell, Gen. Evans and Commander Wright of the navy.

Max King and Moore, both negroes, it is believed, have joined Kingsbury and all are armed. Every road and bridge is guarded. All the negroes in the district are being rounded up in the hunt.

HORSE AND STREET CAR COLLIDE BUT DRIVERS ESCAPE

Two Well Known Young Men
Meet With Mishap, When Horse Shies.

Horse May be Permanently Injured by Accident.

NONE SEEMS TO BE TO BLAME.

Two of Paducah's most prominent young men were in a dangerous smashup Saturday evening at 10:30 o'clock, when a Trimble street car ran into their horse, perhaps mortally wounding it, wrecking the buggy and bruising them. Mr. John Brooks, son of Dr. J. G. Brooks, 317 North Seventh street, and Mr. David Koger, son of Captain James Koger, 305 North Seventh street, were driving Mr. Brooks' fine mare west on Trimble street near Fourteenth street and the car was going east, when a pile of dirt in the street caused the horse to shy toward the track just as the car reached them. The horse was struck on the left shoulder and hurled back on the buggy, smashing the shafts and wheel. Messrs. Brooks and Koger marvelously escaped injury, a strained arm for Mr. Koger and bruises on the legs for Mr. Brooks being their injuries.

Dr. C. G. Warner, veterinarian, found the radial nerve of the horse paralyzed from the blow, though no bones were broken. If the paralysis subsides, the horse probably will recover, but it will require ten days to determine whether she will be normal again. The collision between the horse and the car was severe, and had the horse gotten on to the track before being struck, it is thought that one or both of the young men would have been killed.

Some one in excavating on Trimble street near the Fourteenth street crossing left a pile of dirt and on top of this lime had been sprinkled. It is thought the horse came up on this in the darkness and jumped to escape it, lighting close to the track in front of the oncoming car. The accident was wholly unexpected to either the young men or the motorman and happened so suddenly that neither could avoid it. The car stopped a length from the horse.

There is no street arc light at this crossing and no light was displayed on the pile of dirt. A resident at that point said he had noticed numerous horses shying at the dirt before the accident, and he telephoned yesterday to the city hall to have a light placed there. This was done Sunday night, though too late to avoid the accident of Saturday evening. The horse and buggy were valued at several hundreds of dollars.

Land is an old Killy star with the Paducah team.

ELKS PLAY BALL IN HOT SUNSHINE

And Paducah Boys Win From Their Guests.

Athletic Club Cleans Up With La Center and Gullett's Pratts Take Two Games.

LIVELY SUNDAY BASEBALL.

Paducah Purie and White won from the Marion, Ill., Elks' team yesterday afternoon in a pretty baseball game at League park. Although between lodge teams, the game was remarkably free from bobbles, and shows that the Elks have some of the best athletes in the city. The Marion Elks played a good game and had the game not been called in the seventh inning, when the visitors had a batting rally, the score might have been different. The Paducah Elks substituted Robert Ewell for Sutton. Sutton pitched fine ball, considering the practice he has had, but in the seventh inning he weakened.

All the players put up a nice article of ball, but the large crowd was kept in a roar at the antics of the players. Everybody took the game good naturedly, and the Marion team was cheered as well as the home boys. The Marion Elks were extended every courtesy, and were given an automobile ride in the morning, and the Elks' home was thrown open to them.

For the first two innings each team was blanked, but in the third inning Paducah ran in four scores. Levy got a single between first and second. Prather got a scratch hit and advanced Levy to second. Sutton helped win his game, for with a bang to shortstop, he reached first, and scored. Levy and Prather. Head followed with a good lick, and Sutton crossed the pan. Then Well followed with a nice bingle and Head was put over the pan. In the fourth and fifth innings there was nothing doing for either team, but in the sixth inning, Well knocked a ball good for two stations. After Well rested on second sack for a while the game continued, and Well was sent home by a hit of Marten's.

In the seventh inning the visitors took a batting rally, and before the tide of hitting could be stopped five men had come over the plate. Sutton was replaced by Ewell, and the game was a tie when the hitting stopped.

Paducah Elks were desperate, but the game was worked so that one more man came over home plate, and the cheers of victory broke loose. Marion wore grey suits and presented a neat appearance on the field. They had blue caps with a white elk woven on top. The Paducah Elks had no regular suits.

P. A. C. at La Center.
The Paducah Athletic club went to La Center yesterday and played the La Center team, and won with the score 9 to 5. The game was fast, and the La Center boys gave the Paducah lads a good tussle. Dunbar and Harbour composed the battery for Paducah. Dunbar was in good form and struck out twelve men. Harbour's work with the big mlt was the feature and he made the runners bug the bases. Williams, for La Center, was knocked out of the box. Next Sunday the Paducah club will play Kevill. The line-up was: Harbour, c.; Dunbar, p.; Callen, 1b.; Roof, 2b.; Council, 3b.; C. English, ss.; Jones, lf.; H. English, cf.; Reeder, rf.

Gullett's Pratts Win Two.
Two games were won yesterday by Gullett's Pratts, one from Brookville, and the second from Folsomdale. The team has had good practice and makes it hot for any team in its class. In the morning the team played Brookville at the diamond south of the Union station. Elliott pitched for the Pratts, and his curves and speed were so good that 22 men fanned the air. His work was about the best of an amateur this season. Hedges caught a good steady game. The score was 11 to 2. The line-up was: Hedges, c.; Elliott, p.; Yarn, 1b.

Hofflich, 2b.; Ford, ss.; Mercer, 3b.; S. Mercer, lf.; Gagle, cf.; Morfin, rf. In the afternoon the Folsomdale team was beaten by 9 to 7. Hofflich and Mercer was the battery and the game was interesting, and either team had a chance at victory until the last man was out.

Tie at Princeton.

Princeton, June 8 (Special). After battling for eleven innings with the score 2 to 2, the Paducah Indians and Princeton had to quit playing yesterday afternoon in order to catch a train home. The game was witnessed by the largest crowd on a Princeton diamond this season. Several Princeton players used not the cleanest of tactics to win, but it was useless. Newman was spiked, and also Goodman, but they will be in the game next Sunday. Runyan yielded ten hits, but pitched the better game than Stevens.

Paducah scored one run in the sixth inning. Newman got a hit, stole second and third when he was spiked. Being unable to continue, Hugg took his place and scored on a hit by Hart. In the eighth inning a second score was made. The feature of the batting was Robinson's work, who got three hits out of four times up. Hart got a single and a two base hit. By the injury of Newman, Hay, the Murray catcher, was placed in left field.

Each pitcher yielded ten hits, but Runyan fanned eight men, while Stevens' shoots only fooled six Indians. The Princeton diamond was Metropolis Loses.

Metropolis lost the first ball game of the season to Carterville, Ill., yesterday by a score of 9 to 8. Although the game was close, Metropolis could not close up the gap, and went down in defeat. Dollar, a new pitcher, was given a tryout, and for six innings pitched nice ball, but his came too often, and Will Block, of Paducah, went in to stem the tide, but it was too late. Carterville got seven hits off Dollar, and three banks off Block. Two base hits were secured by Gregory, Ward and Will Block, while George Block knocked two two baggers. Block got four hits out of four times up, threw out two men going to second base, and caught one Carterville man napping off third station. Carterville had a fast bunch, and the Metropolis lads are not discouraged. Next Sunday Metropolis and the Cairo Babsts will play at Metropolis.

SABBATH ORIGIN WHOLLY DIVINE

The Rev. H. B. Terry Preaches First of Series.

God Set Apart Day and History and Philosophy Spurn Theory of Human Origin.

AS A RELIGIOUS OCCASION.

The Rev. H. B. Terry, pastor of the Third Street Methodist church, yesterday preached his first sermon in his series on Sabbath observance, dealing with it as a religious Sabbath, and gave its origin. He said in substance:

Mark II, 27 and 28: "The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath, therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the Sabbath."

Our Lord met the criticisms of the Scribes and Pharisees with the double argument: First—The end of the Sabbath "Made for Man." Second—His authority over the "Lord also of the Sabbath."

Works of mercy and necessity for preserving our lives and for the better fitting us for the services of the Sabbath are lawful and right, according to the teachings of our Lord.

Origin and History.

To man originally the Sabbath must have come as a positive institution, since he could have seen no reason for it aside from the divine command. It has since been commonly regarded as partly positive and partly moral. But now, as a reason can be given for it, and also for the proportion of time designated, it may be regarded as both wholly moral, religious and civil Sabbath.

By the Religious Sabbath we mean a day set apart by God Himself for His own worship and to secure the religious culture and final salvation of men.

By the Civil Sabbath, we mean a day made "non-legal," in which public business shall be suspended, and all labor and recreation shall be so far restrained that the ends of a religious Sabbath may be secured.

It is of the Religious Sabbath that we shall consider, first, its origin and history. The friends of the Sabbath accept and regard as established these points:

That the Sabbath was given to our first parents in Eden, Gen. II, 2 and 3. "And on the seventh day God ended His work, and He rested on the seventh day from all His works, and God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it." That this Sabbath was divinely intended for all.

That we find unmistakable indications of the Sabbath, both in scripture and in heathen literature, between the original command and the giving of the law. Such as the giving of manna, Exodus XVI, 22: "The sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man." And Moses said in verse 23: "This is that which the Lord hath said, tomorrow is the rest of thy holy Sabbath unto the Lord; bake that which ye will bake today." Again in verse 26: "Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the Sabbath, in it there shall be none."

That when the law was given as found in Exodus, XX, 3 to 17, the command to hallow the Sabbath was made conspicuous as one of the ten commandments. That it has the same rank as the other commandments, which are universally binding and all are moral in their character.

That during the subsequent history of the Jews, the prophets referred to the Sabbath as classed with the other commandments "and that the prosperity of the nation depended upon this recognition."

That our Saviour attended the public worship of the Jews in their synagogues, where Moses and the prophets were read every Sabbath day. He removed the superstitious worship that had crept in, but He recognized the Sabbath as a Divine Institution and as "made for man."

That after the resurrection of Christ the day was changed, according to prophecy, and that the first day of the week with the same ends, has been kept until the present time as the Christian Sabbath. For the prophecy regarding this change Leviticus XXII, 10-21, is very conclusive. One-seventh of our time belongs to the Lord. These points belong to the history rather than to philosophy and have been amply discussed by many writers, so we shall not give them further reference at present.

Take man in his sinful state as we find him in every country where the Sabbath is unknown, and it would be impossible for him to have any conception of a Holy Sabbath. Nothing within or without him could have suggested such an institution.

Take men in their selfish condition and they would not have originated an institution, or even consented to set apart a time, which would not only free their laborers, but give that time to another.

Man could not have decided rightly the proportion of time necessary, or have guarded the day by penalties, for the Sabbath does not correspond to any cycle or natural division of time.

The Sabbath is associated with the grandest ideas made known to man by revelation, or possible to thought, as the creation of the world, resurrection of Christ, outpouring of the spirit of rest in heaven. Therefore, man could not have associated these great themes and events with the Sabbath or made it span the arch from the beginning to the consummation of all things.

The divine origin of the Sabbath is authenticated not only as it is blended with the highest ideas and interest of man as connected with the past and future, but also at the same time touching at so many points, the interests of the present life, by its analogy with the simple works of God.

Thus like the air and water which subserves so many uses in its plain and pure condition, man could not improve upon the divine origin of the Sabbath. Hence we say the religious Sabbath comes to man bearing its own credentials from the Almighty Father of us all.

"MICHIGAN IN SUMMER"

Satisfactorily Solves the Vacation Outing Problem.

A sojourn of a week a month or the entire warm weather period may be enjoyed at the cool resorts in North Michigan at much lower fare this season than heretofore. The expense of a trip to Petoskey, Mackinac, Harbor Springs, Traverse City and numerous other summer havens in the lake region, will be materially reduced with the establishment of through sleeping car service over the Pennsylvania lines from Louisville when the season of 1908 opens. This excellent service will make it possible to reach any of the resorts over night from the gateways mentioned without changing cars. Interesting literature about different resorts, including an elaborate publication of about 200 views, is now being distributed in this section by Mr. C. H. Hagerly, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines. By addressing him at N. E. Corner Fourth and Market streets, Louisville, Ky., copies may be obtained by persons planning summer outings. Valuable information and assistance in arranging trips will be cheerfully furnished by Mr. Hagerly.

Daily Thought.

After all, the kind of world one carries about in one's self is the important thing, and the world outside takes all its grace, color, beauty and value from that.—Lowell.

The Rev. W. T. Bolling is becoming a conspicuous figure in the contest between Carmack and Patterson for the Democratic nomination for governor of Tennessee. Saturday the Commercial-Appeal published an interview in which Dr. Bolling declared himself for Patterson. Yesterday the News-Scimitar reproduced a purported interview had with the doctor last fall, in which he said he was for "Ed Carmack, the most brilliant man in the state."

DEMOCRACY'S DILEMMA.

The Democratic state convention in retrospect probably will present an aspect differing in essential respects from the preview of those who dwell long on harmony and reorganization. We anticipate also the exonerations of Ollie James from the charge that he has cast his lot with the whisky ring of Louisville in its palpable effort to capture the party in the name of emancipation from Beckham rule.

Either we have no acquaintance with Ollie James, or else this cry of the Beckhamites is the hysteria of the combat or a subtle scheme to drive Ollie into their camp to escape suspicion of having dealings with the other faction. If Ollie, representing a bunch of dry counties in the Pennington and Purchase, has deliberately chosen sides with the Louisville ring for honors promised or conferred, he has sold his birthright for a mess of poor pottage; and our Ollie has always been considered a wary bird among Kentuckians.

There are honest partisans, thousands of them, who recognize the plight into which the party has fallen, and who desire nothing more than the restoration of their party to a position of dignity and power. They talk of harmony and reorganization; but there are others, who also are talking of harmony and reorganization, but who see in the impending destruction of the Beckham machine an opportunity to seize control of the reorganized party themselves, knowing that the rank and file, disgusted with the old regime, will be ready to follow any leadership that promises a successful revolution. Unless able and sincere partisans guide their followers, the party will fall into hands worse than those from which it is being rescued.

The humiliating history of the last eighteen months must not be forgotten too soon by optimistic Democracy. It may be had for the party to remain under the domination of the Beckham machine; but that machine at least can boast a record of loyalty to party even though that meant nothing more than loyalty to self-interest. How would the rank and file like to fall into the clutches of the Louisville ring, whose only record is a single instance of political perfidy, by which the party was prevented from carrying out a pledge registered at a popular primary in which every known faction and element entered and admitted. "Oh faction and element entered and admitted. Whatever Governor Beckham was an Equi-ma and papa an Equi-ma."

never did anything more treacherous to friend or foe, than his party did to him through its representatives in the legislature, when, after nominating him for United States senator at an open popular primary, and securing a majority in the state legislature, it failed to elect him. Naturally the voter, who accepted the result of the primary in good faith and voted for members of the legislature in the same good faith, may resent the imputation that he is responsible for the infidelity of his agents; yet if that same party in state convention at Lexington places in control of the organization the whisky ring of Louisville, that first bolted on the local option question and then on the vote for senator, the party will have to accept the responsibility of indorsing the conduct of the ring in violating the pledge of the primary.

It may be pretty tough for the honest partisan to be forced into choosing between the dictatorship of the grossly incompetent Beckham machine and the infamous ring that made Louisville politics a reproach on the American political system; but if leaders unite against Beckham and the Louisville ring climbs into power over their shoulders, it will require all our faith to overcome our doubts.

PADUCAH AND PADUCAH WOMEN

It was just the natural inclination of Paducah women to outstrip cities of the Blue Grass in the warmth of their welcome and their minute regard for the comfort and pleasure of the delegates to the federation of Women's clubs, and it is impossible for them to be otherwise than the prettiest women in the whole world, but nevertheless, their divinity has not wholly robbed them of human traits and feminine curiosity, and it will delight them as well as the male population of Paducah, to learn what their visitors said of the city and its women when they got home. Here is what Mrs. Charles P. Weaver told a reporter for the Sunday Courier-Journal:

"Enthusiastic over the splendid entertainment accorded them while in Paducah, the Louisville women who attended the meeting of the Kentucky State Federation of Women's clubs, held there, returned home on Friday. Mrs. Charles P. Weaver was especially profuse in her commendation of the women of Paducah, and said that never before in the history of the State Federation has a body of delegates been more royally entertained. Entertainments galore had been arranged and were successfully carried out, and, according to Mrs. Weaver, Paducah has set a pace in the way of hospitality that it will be difficult for any other city to equal. When it came time for the delegates to select the meeting place for next year they chose Owensboro for the reason that it is the nearest available place to Paducah.

"The Paducah women entertained more handsomely than we as a body of delegates, had ever been entertained before," said Mrs. Weaver. "It has never been my pleasure to be welcomed by more elaborate arrangements, street car rides; we were driven through the parks, and were the recipients of one courtesy after another until there was nothing left to want for. I have never come in contact with more gracious hostesses, and, incidentally, there are more beautiful women in Paducah for a place of its size than anywhere I know of."

WITH THE FUNNY MAN.

Perhaps some money talks, but most of it goes without saying.

Exactly.

Walter—Well, sir, how did you find the bestest?

Doctor—With great difficulty.

Any man is deserving of pity when his own child starts asking him questions in public.

A Golf Term.

One up and two to play.—New York Journal.

Little Harry, who dreaded the frequent plunges that his mother made him take in the bathtub was reading about the Bequimaux and came across the statement that bathtubs were used at a popular primary in which every known faction and element entered and admitted. "Oh faction and element entered and admitted. Whatever Governor Beckham was an Equi-ma and papa an Equi-ma."

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

CHAPTER X.

An Emperor Disappears.

Such was the effect of the strange happenings of May and June that the poise of all Europe seemed trembling and unstable. Men who in all their lives had respected law and society began to question the value of communal authority, when even the most carefully reared power proved unable to protect itself against what appeared to be only one invention. Taxation had created government, which in turn had devised armies and navies and expended more and more money in their equipment. It had now been demonstrated that the discovery of some new force, some one engine of destruction more powerful than any other known, could destroy the values of navies and armies in a day. And yet in this frame of mind, where anarchy seemed less terrible and governments at best but weak organizations, the greed for aggrandizement and conquest reassured itself.

In Russia the revolutionists took heart and hoped to possess the land. In the Balkans, reeking with the blood of past strife, new forces were forming for independence. Rulers of neighboring powers studied the map of Turkey, dreaming of what portion might be seized. China, rehabilitated for aggression by Japan herself, regretted a compact with the smaller country which prevented its seizure, now that it was so terribly weakened.

But the most threatening attitude of all was that of Germany toward Great Britain. The Hohenzollerns, a line of warriors, still held the ancient throne, and the kaiser was ambitious for his country's advancement. An astute ruler of exceptional capacity, he already had advanced Germany's flag of trade beyond all seas, and by this means alone practically dominated all of South America. In all earlier days of this trade conquest the United States had been bused in her home enterprises, saying to herself that when she chose she could find a way to take the traffic of the southern continent with ease. With her eyes widened in silly egotism, she had waited till too late, and then, when her bandages were removed, suddenly learned that commercial brains were not confined to America alone. The sleeping giant had lost commercial supremacy in a continent which was hers by right of location and needs, to a race of industrious workers across the sea.

Nor had Germany neglected her fight for trade at home. There, too, she found egotists, so swollen with self-sufficiency that by disastrous tariff methods they had been bested. England, failing to protect her producers had driven her own farmers and carriers from the field, until, as one disgruntled farmer said: "You can't pick up a cabbage in a stall which don't bear the words 'made in Germany.'" And if a new crown was needed for the king, Germany would have stood a fair chance of booking the order. In a natural revulsion which had reached fever heat before the Japanese-American war broke out, England was trying to obstruct this encroachment. The feeling thus engendered between the two nations culminated in one of envy on the part of Great Britain and one of hatred on the part of Germany. The kaiser, calmly reviewing times and conditions, decided that the time had come to strike.

England, with power sadly diminished through the loss of her great fleet, and at the mercy of the United States in her richest colony, stood open to attack. While she was still mourning defeat, Germany took exception to the tariff laws in a very carefully worded message. It was one that under normal circumstances would have provoked demands for apologies, or, in a refusal of such, almost instant war. But now the lion was driven to temporize. That the kaiser hoped for an open rupture and intended to leave no stone unturned for such an outcome, was demonstrated by his sending more curtly worded notes.

The English press retailed these to the public, and accused the kaiser of deliberately plotting war with a foreign country to offset the spread of socialism which threatened him at home, hoping by combat abroad to reunite his own people.

The kaiser demanded an apology from the British press; but Englishmen were not accustomed to bending the knee, even though the lack of flexibility might cause the loss of life. Lacking nothing in bravery, they reluctantly faced a crisis rather than brook humiliating domination. Their answer therefore was bellicose.

CALL EXTENDED BY TENTH STREET

To The Rev. C. F. Jackson of Lexington College.

Memorial Services Held Yesterday for Knights of Pythias at German Evangelical.

AT THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

The congregation of the Tenth Street Christian church extended a call Sunday to the Rev. C. F. Jackson, of the Lexington Bible college, to fill their pulpit. If he accepts, it will be next September before he will come to begin his pastorate. The picnic for the Sunday school will be given next Thursday at Wallace park. A car will leave Tenth and Jackson streets at 9 o'clock in the morning and all the school members are requested to be there with their baskets.

Cumberland.
The Rev. J. T. Bartlett, of Indiana, will preach at the Cumberland Presbyterian church next Sunday. The Rev. S. B. Rudolph, of Little Cypress, preached yesterday morning and evening.

K. P. Memorial.
Memorial services at the German Evangelical church last evening for the Knights of Pythias were largely attended in spite of the hot weather. The Rev. William Bourquin preached a strong sermon on the favorite theme of the lodge, "Faithful Unto Death." The Knights attended in a body and Mr. John W. Skelton read the names of the members who died last year. Mrs. George Katterjohn sang an appropriate solo, "There is a Land." The singing of the male chorus was a feature.

Pentecost was observed at the morning service by the church. Dr. Bourquin read the scriptures and preached on "The Spirit of Pentecost." Mr. John Rock gave the district conference report and the choir sang the anthem, "I Love Thee, Jehovah."

Methodist stewards will meet on Tuesday evening with Mr. K. E. T. free, 1101 South Fourth street.

Prayer service at the Third Street Methodist church will be held next Wednesday evening by the Rev. C. F. Jones, of Cairo, who is visiting in the city. At last evening's service, the Rev. G. W. Latham, of Mayfield, who has been in the ministry for 66 years, spoke to the congregation.

Without a hitch, the long Children's Day program at Broadway Methodist church was carried out Sunday morning, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. The auditorium of the church was unable to accommodate the crowd and the Sunday school room was thrown open. Two primary department classes were graduated into higher departments. Dr. G. T. Sullivan, the pastor, presented the certificates. Mrs. S. H. Winstead played the organ and Miss Lueyette Soule the piano. Mr. John D. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Mrs. M. F. Phillips, superintendent of the primary department, had charge of the service.

Next Sunday Dr. Sullivan will take a large class into the church, who could not be admitted yesterday for lack of time. Dr. Sullivan preached in the evening, the first sermon in a series for young people.

First Baptist.
The Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, will leave Tuesday morning for Louisville to attend the state Baptist convention. Several members of the church will attend. Prayer meeting Wednesday night will be held by Mr. Ezekiah Leigh, who recently returned from a theological school.

Mr. Vaughan Dabney Preaches.
Mr. Vaughan Dabney, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Dabney, of Fifth and Harrison streets, has returned from Bethany, W. Va., where he has been attending the Bethany theological school. Mr. Dabney is studying for the ministry in the Christian church and will be here only a week longer, when he will return to the Bethany summer school. Sunday morning he preached at the First Christian church in the absence of the pastor, Dr. S. B. Moore. His subject was "Jesus Christ Crucified," and his remarks gave evidence of future power and success in his chosen career. Mr. Dabney has been strongly impressed with the Student Volunteer movement, which is undertaking a stupendous evangelization program, and he may eventually go to the foreign missionary fields. Dr. S. B. Moore will return this week from Ohio.

HIS BLOOD

TRANSFERRED TO WIFE'S IMPROVED SYSTEM.

Young Emigrant Joyfully Makes the Sacrifice That Will Restore Bride to Health.

New York.—Josephine Marasco, a bride of only nine months, and her young husband, Dominick, with whom she fled to this country from her home in Italy when her parents objected to her marriage, are in the Washington Heights Hospital, recovering from the weakness occasioned by the loss of a great quantity of blood which he allowed to be transferred from his veins into his wife's, she, on the highway to health because of her husband's sacrifice before the operation was performed doctors at the hospital had given up all hope of saving the young matron's life.

Mrs. Marasco was carried to the hospital from her home at 2484 Amsterdam avenue late on Monday morning suffering from internal hemorrhages. Dominick followed the ambulance. Throughout the night he sat in the hospital reception room, inquiring eagerly of every nurse or doctor he saw for news of his wife. Over her the hospital staff was exhausting its skill, and Dr. C. C. Sichel told the young husband as gently as possible that his wife's death was only a question of hours.

"She simply has no more blood," explained the physician. "Her veins have been drained to almost the last drop, and her heart cannot continue much longer. There might be one chance for her if it were possible to transfuse a large quantity of healthy blood into her veins."

"Couldn't you take my blood," demanded the eager husband. "She can have it all." And Dominick threw off his jacket and, rolling up his sleeve, exhibited a mighty arm. He is a stonemason by trade, and his work has developed him into almost a perfect specimen of manhood.

Prepared for Operation.
Dr. Sichel gazed at Dominick's muscles in admiration and consented to try the operation. There already was his young wife, strapped to the operating table, with her right arm hanging over its edge. She was unconscious from the effects of manvaine, a new anesthetic.

The young husband was seated in a chair beside his wife and his left arm was bared to the elbow. The doctors offered to put him under an anesthetic, but he refused to take it, saying that he wanted to see the effect of the operation.

Dominick said he was ready and Dr. N. W. Luit made an incision in the main artery of his left arm. At the same time Dr. Sichel made a similar operation in Mrs. Marasco's arm, and Dr. Quittner quickly slipped a three-inch glass tube into the wounds, connecting the arms of husband and wife, so that about an inch of glass remained visible.

Instantly the clear glass filled with blood which began flowing from Dominick's arm into that of his wife. Dr. Quittner opened his watch, glancing alternately at its dial and back at the tiny piece of tube. For ten minutes the flow of blood was allowed to continue.

Slowly the color which had faded from Mrs. Marasco's face returned to her cheeks until they were actually rosy. Her pulse gained strength and her breathing became easier and stronger. As his wife gained, however, Dominick slowly lost his strength. His lips, compressed together tightly, turned slowly from a rich red to an ashen color. The color left his cheeks and the perspiration started from his face. The doctors watched him carefully as he grew weaker, moment by moment.

At last the ten minutes were up, and it was evident to the watching surgeons that Dominick had reached the end of his strength. At the same time Mrs. Marasco's eyelids quivered and she half opened her eyes. Quickly the doctors drew out the tube, and while one closed the wound in Mrs. Marasco's arm other surgeons dressed the wound they had made in Dominick's. As the last dressing was applied the young Italian glanced over toward his young wife, smiled happily at the evidence of returning strength in her, and Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Paducah woman's words:

Mrs. Walter Mathews, 1250 North Thirteenth street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I used the contents of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did more to relieve me of a lame back and pain in my left side than all else I ever used. Before taking them I suffered intensely from pains in my back and sides; at times was hardly able to do my housework. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and procured a box at DuBois, Son & Co.'s drug store. I took them as directed and was more than pleased with the results."

STEADYING EFFECT ON STOCK MARKET

Anticipated For $500,000,000
Emergency Issue Among Financiers of County.

Crop Condition Encouraging From All Sections.

BUSINESS IS MUCH IMPROVED

(Special).

New York, June 8.—Although stock market values have now had a considerable advance notwithstanding easy money, good crop reports and improved business prospects are a combination which retard any great downward reaction of importance for the present at least. An important influence in the situation is the monetary outlook. In spite of large gold exports, and heavy withdrawals of government deposits, there is a big surplus of loanable funds in the banks that is likely to await employment until the fall crop demands assert themselves and general business becomes more active. Even then there is no prospect of stringency, as is shown by the low rates for six months' time money. Such ease of finance, reflects post-panic conditions, and is the consequence of a lessened volume of business and lower prices. Our banks, however, are in an exceedingly strong position, and the financial situation shows steady improvement each week. The most important financial event of the week was the passage of the currency bill by congress. While it is not satisfactory as a permanent measure, and can only be regarded as a temporary expedient, it will, nevertheless, have a steadying influence in financial affairs. The generally recognized fact that in an emergency $500,000,000 of new money is obtainable by the banks and can be put into circulation at once, will prevent widespread and serious panics occurring hereafter. If, therefore, such panics are thus prevented the emergency currency law may serve its purpose without the money it authorizes being called into use. It being fully understood that $500,000,000 can be obtained when absolutely necessary, the probability is that it will be seldom, if ever, wanted. When I originally suggested the fundamental part of this measure I had that idea in view as I have felt that it was a burning disgrace to the nation that money could be 3 per cent in Wall street one day and 150 per cent the next. This has worked most disastrously to permanent business confidence with our merchants and financial institutions and the general prosperity of the country. The new bill certainly will serve the purpose of bridging over until a better plan can be secured. I have favored this emergency measure because I was convinced it was the only thing this congress could possibly be influenced to pass during this session, its simplicity being its chief recommendation.

Crops Encouraging.
Considerable encouragement can be derived from crop conditions. Thus far the season has been exceedingly favorable, the injury from excessive rains having been inconsiderable. The latest reports show that cotton is about 10 points better in condition than a year ago, and that there has been no reduction in acreage in spite of agitation to the contrary. As to winter wheat the prospects are excellent, conditions being better than a year ago and acreage larger. Kansas, which last year raised 64,000,000 bushels, reports conditions much higher than a year ago. Spring wheat is also doing finely; and in Minnesota and the Dakotas, which raise the bulk of this crop, prospects are high enough to promise a bumper yield, if future injury does not prevent. Corn is backward, owing to excessive rains; but the latter have left the soil in a good condition, and corn is a crop which makes time rapidly when hot weather arrives. Nearly all other crops are doing well, especially the hay crop, and our farmers are as sure of an ample harvest and good profits as they can be at this stage of the season. Moreover, the danger of damage from drought has been largely eliminated by recent abundant precipitation, and the general high condition of crops.

General Business.
General business shows signs of improvement. The volume of transactions is still far below normal, but buyers are taking hold and mills are resuming in a manner that is encouraging, and proves that the recovery is actual and not imaginary. Some very liberal orders for both cotton and woolen goods have been placed this week; and the iron trade is being stimulated by lower prices in spite of recent official announcements that quotations would be maintained. It would be idle, however, to expect too sudden or pronounced a revival. A period of midsummer quiet is close at hand, and it will be some time before business is resumed on the former scale, and then it will be only upon a lower level of values and costs. Our railroad situation is still unsatisfactory, earnings showing heavy losses owing to diminished volume of traffic. No very great improvement in this respect can be expected before the crop movement begins. In the second week of May 44 roads reported a decrease of nearly 22 per cent in earnings, and in the third week of May 41 roads reported a decrease of nearly 21 per cent. More recent reports show even larger declines on some roads. Net returns are also disappointing, although the losses in this respect have been somewhat compensated for by extensive curtailments in expenses. Now that the roads are better able to finance their new loans, at least a partial resumption of improvements and new construction is to be expected. This has been delayed somewhat by the high prices demanded for iron and other construction materials; but no doubt, aid in restarting the wheels of industry, business failures in May were nearly $27,000,000, or almost double those of the same month last year. During the first five months of 1908 total failures were $160,000,000, as against $59,000,000 for the same period in 1907. Of late failures have been diminishing in number and in amount of liabilities, but these figures are emphatic testimony as to the severity of the panic, and leave but one conclusion—that recovery after so severe a blow cannot be instantaneous, not even under the most perfect application of the "faith cure" treatment.

Stock Market.
The stock market is likely to be somewhat uncertain until the Republican presidential nomination is made. The undertone is unmistakably quiet and strong and no serious setback is expected. Prices, however, are on quite a high level, and should the market lose the conspicuous support of big operators who are now under the impression that the market will be quiet, prices would naturally sag. Two factors contributed towards a decline in the latter part of the week; the approach of the Republican convention at Chicago and the placing of the Union Pacific loan. The market no doubt had been manipulated to assist the latter operation, and its consummation was accompanied by considerable realizations on part of the operators who have been active in these shares. There is still some uncertainty as to who will be the next presidential candidate, and the captains of industry and finance, leaders, who have felt the government's strong arm during the last two years, are naturally sensitive as to the outcome. Mr. Taft's nomination would, however, be satisfactory to financial interests; inasmuch as it is fully believed he would continue present policies with as little irritation as possible. The market may easily go lower, but no serious decline seems probable.

A Delightful Summer Dish
"A chafard of salmon is suitable for the piece de resistance of a dinner or luncheon during the warm season," says Fannie Merritt Farmer in Woman's Home Companion for June. "Take the contents of one can of salmon or equal weight in cold boiled fish, remove skin and bones, and separate in flakes. If the canned product is used, first rinse very thoroughly with hot water. Mix one tablespoonful of flour, one half tablespoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of mustard and a few grains of cayenne. Add one egg slightly beaten, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of melted butter, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar and three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Cook over hot water until the mixture thickens like a soft custard, stirring constantly at first and afterward occasionally. Remove from the range, and add three-fourths of a tablespoonful of granulated gelatine soaked in two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Strain the mixture, add to the fish, and turn into individual molds or a brick mold. Chill thoroughly, and remove from the mold or molds to a serving dish. If I mold the mixture for individual service I usually surround the portions with cucumber sauce and garnish each with a slice of cucumber. If I have a large mold I arrange it on a bed of lettuce and serve with frozen horseradish sauce."

A Frank Vow.

A story is related of a young man who was recently married to a daughter of a wealthy, merchant. The groom did not have a penny, but he was honest. "With all thy worldly goods I me endow," replied the groom. This was real honest.—Sketch.

TOBACCO NEWS

Louisville Report.

Louisville, June 8.—Chief interest in the local tobacco market still centers in the planting and condition of the new crop. According to reports received from the several growing sections of the state planting is progressing rapidly. It is estimated that 70 per cent of the intended burley crop has been planted, 90 per cent of the intended dark crop and 50 per cent of the intended Green river crop. This averages 70 per cent of the entire crop of last year. Considering the conditions which prevailed in the tobacco districts of the state generally during the past four or five months, this percentage of planting is better than had been generally expected. The planting has, as a rule, been done under favorable circumstances, and indications are that the new crop will get an excellent start.

Concerning the present market for tobacco, it is reported that conditions on the breaks this week were somewhat improved over those of last week. Trading was more animated, there appearing to be a very much better demand for tobacco generally than was the case last week. In consequence, prices showed some improvement. There was especial improvement in dark market, showing considerable improvement on certain grades.

The Italian Rego had sampled this week 200 hogsheads of dark tobacco. The Equity society had sampled 470 hogsheads of old burley.

Clarksville Market.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 8. Our receipts in May were 1,709 hogsheads, sales 1,290 hogsheads; shipments 2,186 hogsheads; total stocks June 1, 5,588 hogsheads, of which buyers held 4,374 hogsheads and sellers 1,214 hogsheads.

The figures of our largest warehouse are not included in above report.

Our receipts in the open market this week were 136 hogsheads; sales 342 hogsheads. The market was firm to strong on all grades in fair order.

Receipts of loose tobacco were very light. We have continued to have showery weather and the crop of tobacco seems all planted except scattered remnants here and there. We are likely to have now clear weather suitable for finishing the corn planting and harvesting the wheat crop.

The association salesmen continue busy and probably sold this week between 600 and 700 hogsheads at full prices, and would have done more but for a proportion of the samplings being in unsafe order. The prizes were compelled to pack in the order delivered by the planters, the moderate prices paid for pricing not permitting the expense of drying and reordering. We quote:

The deposit of dew is greatly influenced by color. It will be found thickest on a board painted yellow, but not at all on red and black.
